Ricardo Muñoz is our voice in the Democratic Party

Alderman Ricardo Muñoz is a progressive Democrat fighting to bring our troops home from Iraq.

He is fighting to make sure they come home to a better Chicago.

Ricardo Muñoz is a citywide leader on education and labor issues, who brings home funding for community projects. The Chicago Sun-Times called Alderman Ricardo Muñoz the standard for Hispanic aldermen and the best Latino ward leader in the City. The New York Times says progressive Democrat Muñoz has been an independent voice in the City Council for more than a dozen years.

(CHICAGO SUN-TIMES, Thursday, Feb. 21, 2003. The New York Times, Friday, Jan. 06, 2006.)

Invest in Chicago – not Iraq.

Ricardo Muñoz believes we should end the Iraq War today and bring back our soldiers as soon as possible. That's why he wrote and passed the City Council ordinance calling for an end to the war.

Alderman Ricardo Muñoz has been a leader on education reform. He fought for and won the construction of the first new high school in the community in over 90 years and successfully advanced a law that has generated hundreds of millions of dollars in new education spending without raising taxes.

A copy of our report is/will be filed with the Illinois State Board of Elections, Springfield, Illinois and the office of the Cook County Clerk, Chicago, Illinois.

People matter more than profits.

Ricardo Muñoz will use the office of State Central Committeeman to work with Congressional Democrats to fight George W. Bush and roll back the President's unfair tax cuts for the wealthy.

Alderman Ricardo Muñoz wrote the historic Chicago Living Wage law that requires city contractors to pay employees a salary that is high enough to support a family. In 2002, the City Council increased the living wage by 16% making sure families will be better able to make ends meet.
